

THE SPECTRE WARRIOR.

On the night previous to the battle of Lexington, a strange warrior mounted on a spirited charger, rode furiously through the streets of some of the principal towns in the vicinity of Boston, giving the intelligence that the British troops had left that city on their march to Concord. He waited for no salutation—no one knew him—but he gave the alarm, and passed on. From the circumstance of the alarm being given in such wide and various directions at the same time, in the same singular manner, and by apparently the same person, it was looked upon by many as interpolation of Providence in behalf of the Colonists. Such, at least, was the tradition; and long was the Spectre Warrior remembered, when the scenes of '76 were recounted by the winter's fire-side.

Heard you not that war-horse trampling?
Heard you not that iron tread?
When the earth and skies are darkling,
Sounds like those might rouse the dead?
Hark! that shout—it swells to heaven,
Loud as pealing thunders roar
When the mountain oak is riven—
These the thrilling sounds it bore!

"Rouse, ye slumberers! sleep no longer—
Foemen's feet are on your way;
Wake to glory, wake to danger,
Gird you to the bloody fray.
Even now their bayonets glancing
Mock the shroud of murky Night—
Hark! the squadrons, proudly prancing,
Guide the hero to the fight.

"Slumberers, wake! away to battle—
Nerve your heart, and nerve your arm;
Heard you not the war-drum's rattle?
Heard you not the dread alarm!
Wait you till your wives and daughters
Victims fall before your eye!
Till your towering spires, your spires
Low in smoking ruins lie!

"Sleep you when red ruin lowers
O'er your friends, your hearts, your homes!
Is there a ne woe spirit cowers?
Bid the wretch in slavery roam.
Sleep no longer—grasp your weapons!
Pledge at freedom's shrine your life!
Battle with blood the ground you meet on!
Triumph waits the glorious strife.

"Sleep you when the chains are clanking
Which oppressors forge for you!
When the tyrants hate is ranting—
Hate which pardon never knew!
See! where yonder clouds are breaking,
Star-light banners wave on high!
Follow them, and proudly waving,
Freemen live, or conquerors die!

"Sleep no longer—wake to glory!
Bid the haughty foe come on;
Teach him Freedom's soil is gory;
Strike the blow at Lexington!
Strike as patriots born for freedom—
Men who've sworn they will be free!
Burst the servile chains that wreath you!
Strike for God and Liberty!

"By your sire's unconquered spirit!
By the green turf o'er their graves!
By the rights you here inherit!
Sweet to never live as slaves!"

The tramping pass, don—the sounds died away,
But the patriot flew to the field;
And, ere the next sun showed the close of the day,
With his blood had our liberty sealed!

FEMALE PIETY.

The gem of all others which enriches the coronet of a lady's character, is unaffected piety. Nature may lavish much on her person—the enchantment of her countenance—the grace of her mien—the strength of her intellect, yet her loveliness is uncrowned till piety throws around the whole, the sweetness and power of her charms. She then becomes unchangeably desired and associated. The spell which binds her affections to the things below is broken and she mounts on the silent wings of her fancy and hope, to the habitation of God, where it is her delight to hold communication with the spirits that have been ransomed from the thralldom of earth and wretched with a garland of glory.

Her beauty may throw a magical charm over many; princes and conquerors may bow with admiration at the shrine of her love, the sons of science may embalm her memory in the page of history—yet her piety must be her ornament, her pearl. Her name must be written in the "Book of Life," that when the mountains fade away and every memento of earthly greatness is lost in the general wreck of nature, it may remain and swell the list of that mighty throng which have been clothed with the mantle of righteousness, and their voices attuned to the melody of glory.

With such a treasure every lofty gratification on earth may be purchased, friendships will be doubly sweet, pain and sorrow shall lose their sting, and the character will possess price far "above riches," life will be but a pleasant visit to earth, and death the entrance upon a joyful and perpetual home. And when the notes of the last trump shall be heard, and sleeping millions awake to judgment, its possession shall be presented, "faithful before the throne of God with exceeding joy, and a crown of glory that shall never wear away."

Such is piety. Like a tender flower, planted in the fertile soil of woman's heart, it grows expanding its foliage and imparting its fragrance to all around, till it is set to bloom in perpetual vigor and unfading beauty in the Paradise of God.

Follow this star, it will light you through every labyrinth of life—gild the gloom that will gather round you in a dying hour and bring you safely over the tempestuous Jordan of death into the haven of promised and settled rest.

Too Much Tarnish.—A young lady lately observed: "When I go to the theatre, I am very careless of my dress, as the audience are too attentive to the play to observe my wardrobe; when I go to Church, I am very particular in my outward appearance, as most persons go there to see how their neighbors dress and deport themselves."

DEPARTMENT OF STATE.
WASHINGTON, March 27, 1841.
To M. St. Clair Clarke, William S. Murphy and Hudson M. Garland, Esqs.
GENTLEMEN: It is the desire of the President to be fully acquainted with the state of progress in which the public works in this city now are, and with the degree of skill, fidelity, and economy with which those works are carried on.

For this purpose he has appointed you a commission of examination and inquiry, and he wishes you to direct your attention to the following points:

1. What is the number of persons employed on public buildings now in progress in the city, exclusive of laborers? This is the more necessary, as many of those persons hold offices not created by specific provisions of law.
2. What is the respective duty of each of these persons?
3. What prices are paid them for their services, and whether, in any case, the compensation is unreasonably large.
4. Whether there has been, or is, any just ground of complaint against those persons, or any of them, either in regard to their own diligence and skill, or in regard to the treatment of laborers employed by them?

If you have any reason to suppose that any one has been guilty of misconduct, you will state the charge to him and give him an opportunity to answer it; and will report no evidence of which the party shall not have had notice.

You will inquire into no man's political opinions or preferences, but, if it is alleged that any person, having the power of employing and dismissing laborers, has used that power, either in employing or dismissing, with any reference to the political opinions of those who may have been employed or dismissed, for any political or party object whatever, or in any other way violated his duty for party or election purposes, you will inquire into the truth of such suggestion; and if you find reason to think it well founded in any case, you will state the particular facts and circumstances on which your opinion is formed.

It is not intended that this commission shall be of long continuance, nor be attended with any considerable expense. You will use as much despatch therefore, as the nature of the case may allow, and make report to this Department. A reasonable sum will be allowed to you for your time and service out of the appropriate fund.

By the President's order:
D. WEBSTER, Secretary of State.

IN pursuance of instructions from the Secretary of the Treasury, the following Circular has been forwarded to all of the disbursing officers and agents of the War, Navy, and Indian Departments, whose accounts are subject to the revision of the Second Comptroller.

CIRCULAR.

TREASURY DEPARTMENT, }
Second Comptroller's Office, March 22, 1841. }
SIR: You are hereby requested to render your account of disbursements for the current quarter as soon after its close as practicable, and in so doing you will present with and refer to in your account current two abstracts, one referring to vouchers for payments made for demands which accrued prior to the 1st inst., the other to those subsequent thereto, unless your disbursements since that day have not exceeded in amount the funds then on hand. Should that be the fact, your account may be rendered as heretofore.

You will, however, in all cases, report the amount of funds in your hands on the 1st inst. Subsequent quarterly accounts are to be rendered as required above, should they embrace payments for demands which accrued prior to the 1st inst.

By direction of the Secretary of the Treasury.
ALBION K. PARRIS, Comptroller.

The discharge of the publishers of the Globe from the office of printers to the Senate was upon the grounds that the office held by them was an office at will, and that in accepting it they had received it with the implied condition that the duration of it might be determined at any time. It was urged on the other side that a contract had been made between the parties which the Senate had no right to annul. On this point the remarks of Mr. Bayard, of Delaware, will show the views entertained by a majority of the Senate:

"What sort of a contract was it? A contract which carried in germ the principle of its own dissolution—a contract made with an officer who holds his office at will of the Senate. He should like to know whether the employment of any officer was not a contract? It belonged to this class of contracts—after you have performed the work, I will pay you." There was the contract, and in accepting an office, which is itself an office at will the person accepted it with this consideration—that he could be removed at any moment. It was a parliamentary office, and all such were at will. No principle was better understood than that all parliamentary offices are at will. All were at will. The Speaker of the House of Representatives was at will—they might remove him. Did not our Collectors, District Attorneys, and Marshals, hold their office for a period of years, and yet with a defeasible condition.

"And what difference did the bond make? Did not their clerk give bond? And yet was he not removable? This was the effect and operation of the bond—simply, inasmuch as they were charged with a very important duty, that they perform the duty with fidelity as long as they remain in office. That was all. There was the limitation of it. It was in the nature of things—that if an officer holds his office at will, the same condition goes with the contract. We will employ you so long as agreeable for us, and pay you at a certain rate. And what did the other party say? I will do it at his rate—subject to your wish or refusal. There was the contract, and the whole contract."

Her Majesty.—It is stated in circles likely to be acquainted with the fact, that her Majesty is again in an "interesting situation," at once exciting the hopes and sympathies of her loyal subjects. [Globe, (ministerial paper).]

A lady of Tarrytown being out in the evening, was accosted by a gentleman who offered to escort her home, to which she answered, "Get out, you brute!" He begged her pardon, when she immediately replied, "Ah! sir, I ask your pardon, for in a state of mental absence, I thought it was my husband!"

What is the reason a lady can't whistle? Because she can never cease talking long enough.

"Here is a young sucker," as Mrs. Fish said to her husband, when she presented him with an heir.

Hays' Liniment.

The only true and genuine Recipe, and so declared by the oath of Mr. Solomon Hays, has never been made known to any person or persons except to Messrs. Constock and Co., and they only have the right to prepare the said genuine Liniment, which has established a reputation for effectually curing the Piles in every case, and in all the various stages of the complaint; also Rheumatism, Sore Throat, Sprains, Bruises, Sores and Ulcers of long standing. All who have ever used it are highly pleased with its effects, and all who are in need of cures for any of the complaints mentioned, are respectfully requested to ask any one who has ever used it. And we refer with confidence to all who know of the article, and especially to Matthew J. Myers, Esq. Athens, N. Y., and Gen. Duff Green, late of Washington city, all of whom speak in the strongest terms and with the fullest confidence from personal application and knowledge of its positive and never failing cures.

LOOK OUT.
Some swindlers have counterfeited this article, and put it up with various devices. Do not be imposed upon. One thing only will protect you—it is the name of Constock and Co., that name must be always on the wrapper, or you are cheated. Do not forget it. Take this direction with you and test by that, or never buy; for it is impossible for any other to be true or genuine.

SOLEMON HAYS.
Sold wholesale by Constock and Co., 2 Fletcher Street, N. Y., and by nearly every storekeeper in America.

For sale at the Drug and Bookstore of Dr. TALBOT.

Look Out!!

"Caution" is the Parent of Safety.
An attack of the "Piles" may be positively prevented by using (when the premonitory symptoms are felt) the celebrated HAYS' LINIMENT.—There are more than one hundred people in this city, and in the United States an immense number, who have suffered beyond endurance by this dread complaint, who keep themselves wholly free from attacks by applying this Liniment when they feel any symptoms of its approach: of this there is the most perfect proof.

None genuine without the name of Constock & Co. written on the wrappers.

Caution Circular.

To Druggists and Country Merchants.
Those valuable articles OLD BRIDGE'S BALM OF COLUMBIA for the Hair, and HAYS' LINIMENT for the Piles, &c. have been extensively counterfeited. Those wanting those preparations, will please always write, when ordering from any other house, for Constock's articles. The true articles have the name or signature always on the wrapper, and vendors will do well to remember that when ordering, as the country is so exposed to nearly all the newspapers throughout the country, that they could not be sold, should they be so unfortunate as to get them.

Our friends throughout the Union are requested to give us immediate notice, by letter, should any of the counterfeits appear in their respective places.

Respectfully,
CONSTOCK & CO.
Wholesale Druggists, 2 Fletcher st., N. Y.

Oldridge's Balm of Columbia.

This article was first introduced into the New-York market about 20 years since, and from its superior virtues in reproducing hair when it has fallen out, keeping the head free from dandruff, (a most laudable article on a gentleman's coat collar,) and giving a softness and beautiful lustre unknown to any other hair, has induced some persons to get up and advertise more other articles for the same purpose, none of which stand the test of trial, professing as most of them do, to be oils of various kinds, all of which are positively injurious to the human hair. Let none be deceived, no other article will make the hair grow rapidly and of a good quality; but the Balm of Columbia, and no article purporting to be the Balm of Columbia is genuine without the name of Constock & Co. on the outside wrapper. Some have been discovered and obtained a counterfeit article for the true and genuine Balm of Columbia. Remember to look for the name of Constock & Co. on the wrapper, before you purchase, and get none but the genuine. Don't be deceived with the assurance that any without the name of Constock & Co. is made in the same way and is just as good, all such pretensions are false and known to be so by the Counterfeiters.

Sold Wholesale and Retail, only at No. 2 Fletcher Street, N. Y., by Constock & Co., and by nearly every storekeeper throughout America.

For sale at the Drug and Bookstore of Doctor TALBOT.

To the Bald Headed.

This is to certify, that I have been bald about 20 years, and by the use of the genuine BALM OF COLUMBIA, my head is now covered with hair. I shall be happy to convince any one of the fact that will call and see me at Delhi village. The above article I bought of Grinnell, Case and Co.'s store, who had it from Constock and Co.

STATE OF MISSOURI,
COUNTY OF RANDOLPH.

In the County Court—February Term, 1841.
NOW at this day John Dysart, administrator of all and singular the goods and chattels, &c., which were of John M. Collins, dec'd., comes here into Court, and presents his petition representing that the personal estate is insufficient for the payment of the debts, and praying the Court to order the sale of the whole or so much of the real estate as will be sufficient for the payment of the debts, and the petition being accompanied by the lists, inventories, &c., required by law, it is ordered by the Court that all persons interested in said estate, be notified that the application aforesaid has been made, and that unless the contrary be shown to this Court, on the first day of the next Term of this Court—an order will be made requiring the administrator to make sale of the real estate aforesaid, and it is further ordered that the administrator cause a copy of this order to be published in some newspaper printed in this State for six weeks. A true copy.

THE Boston Notion,
IS NOW THE LARGEST, CHEAPEST, AND MOST UNEXCEPTIONABLE FAMILY NEWSPAPER PUBLISHED IN AMERICA! ENJOYING THE UNPARALLELED WEEKLY CIRCULATION OF NEAR 25,000 COPIES.

A new Prospectus or detail of the character of the BOSTON NOTION, at the present time, would be almost superfluous and idle, were it not that several interesting and valuable features have been and are about to be added to its heretofore valuable columns. The NOTION, ever since it was first ushered into existence, has always been prompt in procuring, at great expense, and republishing the most valuable of AMERICAN and FOREIGN LITERATURE. The best articles of the periodical press of both countries are speedily transferred to its immense columns. Among the number may be mentioned the North American Review, the New York Review, the Southern Literary Messenger, the Knickerbocker, the Ladies' Companion, the Ladies' Book, Blackwood's Magazine, Frazer's Magazine, Tait's Edinburgh Magazine, New Monthly Magazine, Metropolitan Magazine, Dublin University Magazine, Bentley's Miscellany, Chambers's Edinburgh Journal, Grant's London Journal, the English Journal, the Irish Penny Journal, &c., &c. Entire Novels, Stories and Sermons from the pens of the most eminent living writers, viz:—Bulwer, Dickens (Boz), Knowles, Cockton, (author of Valentine Vox), James, Ainsworth, Marryat, Mrs. Trollope, Mrs. Norton, Countess of Blessington, Miss Mitford, Mrs. Wilson Channing, Dwyer, Irving, Cooper, Longfellow, Simonds, Lurgan, Bryant, Halleck, Mr. Signory, Miss Sedgwick, Miss H. F. Gould, &c., &c.,—have appeared and will continue to appear in its columns. In brief, each number of the Notion contains gems of the literature of the world.

Novels, Tales, Romances, Agriculture, Biographies, New Publications, Moral Readings, &c. &c. forming altogether the MOST UNEXCEPTIONABLE FAMILY NEWSPAPER IN AMERICA.

Besides all the foregoing, the NOTION will hereafter contain the following VALUABLE and INTERESTING

ADDITIONAL FEATURES.

One or more Original Comic Engravings—designed by D. C. JOHNSON, Esq., (the Cruickshank of America), expressly for the Notion,—will appear every week in its columns. Thus at the end of a year, the subscribers to the paper will have nearly one hundred of as comical designs as, we venture to say, can be produced by any artist.—These alone will be worth treble the price of subscription.

The Notion will also be frequently embellished with other costly and superior Engravings. The cost for designing and cutting all the Engravings that will appear in the Notion hereafter, will be about $8,000 per year!

Arrangements have also been made, involving a very heavy expense, for ORIGINAL ARTICLES from the following distinguished AMERICAN AUTHORS, viz:—
J. Fenimore Cooper, Esq.—Professor Henry W. Longfellow—W. Gilmore Simms, Esq.—Samuel Woodworth, Esq.—Henry T. Tuckerman, Esq.—I. McLean, Esq.—Alfred B. Street, Esq., and others.

Original articles from one or more of the gentlemen named, and others, will appear in each number of the Notion, involving an expenditure of nearly five thousand dollars per annum.

THREE POPULAR NOVELS are now in the course of publication in its columns, viz:—OLD ST. PAULS, by Ainsworth—THE POACHER, by Marryat—and GEORGE ST. GEORGE JULIAN, by the Author of "Valentine Vox."

Thus the public will perceive that an additional outlay of about $8,000, will hereafter be expended each year by the introduction of these new features. The proprietor flatters himself, therefore, that it will continue to receive the same unbounded patronage which has thus far been extended to it by a generous public.

The Notion is now printed in a superior style, on an extra quality paper, manufactured expressly for it.

Specimen numbers will be sent to any who may wish it, by making their desire known to us, free of expense.

Postmasters will do a favor by acting as agents. Back numbers to January 1st, commencing with part first of the above named popular Novels, can be furnished, if desired.
TERMS—$3.00 per year—$2.00 for six months, invariably in advance. Two copies for $5.00. Postmasters or others, remitting twenty dollars, shall have eight copies sent to such persons and places as they may designate, and be entitled to the ninth copy gratis.

THE CHEAPEST AND HANDSOMEST MAGAZINE IN THE WORLD!

ROBERTS' SEMI-MONTHLY MAGAZINE,

FOR TOWN AND COUNTRY,

is published by the subscriber, on the 1st and 15th of every month, contains 40 large pages, (21 small,) and is printed in a very superior manner—after the style of Blackwood's Magazine,—accompanied with an extra thick cover.

It always contains all the valuable miscellaneous matter that appears in the Boston Notion, including the popular Romances of Old St. Pauls, by Ainsworth, THE POACHER, by Marryat, and GEORGE ST. GEORGE JULIAN, by the Author of "Valentine Vox." Also, all the ENGRAVINGS that appear in that paper—interspersed with occasionally a piece of fashionable music. At the end of the year it will comprise a volume of over one thousand pages—a library in itself!—and the subscription for a year is only $2.00 and when taken in clubs of Ten, only $1.50! i. e. 10 copies for $15.00.

The first number was published January 15, 1841, and contained part first of the popular Novels mentioned above. All the back Nos. from No. 1 can be furnished.

Postmasters are authorized to receive subscribers for the Magazine.
